we did in Barrington, where there are folks that go around and do driveways, for example. And, they, often without full approval or agreement with the homeowner, install things or make changes and then demand payment for that, even when the homeowner has objected to it. And so, this was actually to prevent predatory types of practices of folks that go door to door and sell. So, that's my understanding of it.

I was hoping that somebody from the AG's Office could explain it more fully than I could because it did raise questions for me. I called, I got great answers. I was comfortable with the bill, but and I should have captured it all in writing at the time. They are usually great about being here to explain why they wanted something, and it was a perfectly good explanation at the time.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: And, I am sure that there has just been a miscommunication. So, I note that Senator Reynolds, Senator Lasky and Senator Letourneau have all signed in, in support, but don't want to speak. I am wondering whether we should just continue the hearing so that...

Senator Deborah R. Reynolds, D. 2: We ought to recess.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Recess it.

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: That would be a good idea.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: So, that we could reach out to the AG's Office and they can come in.

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: And, I appreciate your accommodation in that regard, Madam Chair.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: I just want to make, if I can? Thank you, Madam Chair.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Sure. Yes. Yes.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: When I read this yesterday or last night, it says this bill requires the seller engaged in a home solicitation sale. I assumed it meant a, someone selling their house.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Yes.

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: No.

MB

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: So, as you discuss this, I want to make sure I am correct, this has nothing to do with people selling their house. This is for when people come to your house to sell you stuff, and the driveway paver is the best example I can think of.

Senator Betsi DeVries, D. 18: Or vinyl siding.

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: Thank you. Thank you, Senator Bragdon. I actually, when I was given the language and I sat down and read it, I had that same reaction. And so, called and went through the whole thing, and as I said, if I were as diligent as I can be at times, I would have had all of those notes with me this morning, but I assumed we'd have somebody who is a real expert in this explain. But, that's, but, that's my understanding that these are people who go door to door selling things that for which there have been problems in the past.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: Yup. Thank you.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: And, I would just add, my guess is that somewhere in this statutory scheme, there is a definition of home solicitation contract.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: Probably.

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: Yes. Yes, there is.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: I wasn't that thorough.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Because I had the exact same reaction, which is... My imagination was running wild, but...

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: I do want to apologize to the Committee.

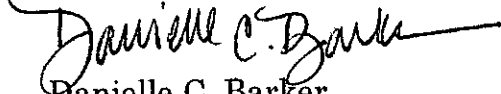

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: Is that covered under here?

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: I do want to apologize to the Committee. As the prime sponsor of this bill, it was my responsibility to ensure that the folks that should have been here were here and...

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: It has happened to all of us, and not to worry. So, with that, was there anybody else in the room who wanted to speak to Senate Bill 368? So, we're going to go ahead and recess the hearing on 368. And, I do get to gavel a recess, I've been told.

Hearing recessed at 9:47 a.m.

What the bill does: This bill requires the seller engaged in a home solicitation sale to provide written notice of the buyer's rights under the contract. The bill also permits the buyer to obtain a refund from the seller if the buyer cancels the transaction in accordance with the statute, notwithstanding the fact that the seller has performed services under the contract within that period.

Who supports this bill: Senator Cilley, Senator Reynolds, Senator Lasky, Richard Head, Attorney General Office

Who opposes this bill: None.

Summary of testimony received:

Richard Head, Attorney General's Office.

- Supports SB368.
- This bill is a reaction to paving scams, which constitute a home solicitation contract.
 - A paver approaches a homeowner, says they have extra asphalt and offer them a deal on paving the driveway. Many times this solicitation can be seen as threatening and usually the finished product is of poor quality.
- The committee asked if this bill's intent is to discourage the practice or give the attorney general's office the power to prosecute. Mr. Head said it was the latter.

Fiscal Note: Not applicable.

Action: Senator Cilley moved the bill Ought to Pass. Senator DeVries seconded the motion. Senator Cilley will take the bill out.

The Senate Committee on Commerce, Labor and Consumer Protection held a hearing on the following:

SB 368 relative to notice required under the retail selling statute.

Members of Committee present: Senator Hassan
Senator DeVries
Senator Reynolds
Senator Cilley
Senator Bragdon
Senator Roberge

The Chair, Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, reopened the previously continued hearing on SB 368.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: What was a recessed hearing, or I guess I should say I am continuing the recessed hearing on Senate Bill 368. We are waiting... It was scheduled for 8:30. We are waiting to see if someone from the Attorney General's Office is on his or her way. We will keep the recessed hearing open, and if they don't come before 8:45, which is about five minutes from now, we'll go ahead and continue, recess the hearing again and go on to our next hearing.

And, I know that now that Senator Bragdon is back and I think we have five minutes before the next hearing. Senator DeVries, do we have the, an amendment yet?

Senator Betsi DeVries, D. 18: It is supposed to be on its way over from across in OLS. But, maybe, Mary. Here it is.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: There it is.

Senator Betsi DeVries, D. 18: Timing is everything, Claire.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: So, if I could have a motion...
Danielle Barker: Senator Hassan? Senator Hassan?

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Executive Session, so moved.

Ms. Barker: Can you just recess this bill right here?

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Okay.

Ms. Barker: You have to recess it, again.

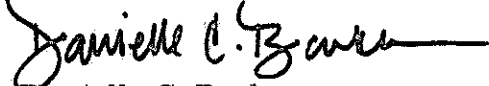

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: To go into executive session?

Ms. Barker: To go into executive session because we opened it.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Yeah, I guess you're right. Okay.
So, I am recessing the hearing on Senate Bill 368.

The Senate Committee on Commerce, Labor and Consumer Protection held a hearing on the following:

SB 368 relative to notice required under the retail selling statute.

Members of Committee present: Senator Hassan
Senator DeVries
Senator Reynolds
Senator Cilley
Senator Bragdon
Senator Roberge

The Chair, Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, reopened the previously continued hearing on SB 368.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Attorney Head, if you've had a minute to catch your breath...

Attorney Richard Head: I have.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: We'd love to hear from you. I think, Senator, just so everybody knows where we are, Senator Cilley introduced Senate Bill 368 last week.

Attorney Head: And, was looking desperately for me.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: And, was hoping that, that you could enlighten us a little bit more. So, if you could do that, that would be great.

Attorney Head: And, again, I apologize. We normally don't miss these. We do have a system for trying to catch them, and for whatever reason, there was confusion on this bill.

For the record, my name is Richard Head with the Attorney General's Office. We are here in support of Senate Bill 368, and had asked Senator Cilley to introduce it. This bill comes out of, originally, in terms of why we were presenting it, in terms of paving scams that hit New Hampshire, hit all the states every year. Paving scams are in, fall within the definition of home solicitation contracts. The paving scam operates in a way that a large man will hop out of a large truck that has pavement in it. The scam usually goes along the lines of, "I have extra pavement in the back of the truck from a job I just finished. It's going to go to waste. I see your driveway is a little bumpy. Can I help you?"

Some of the stories include a mother coming out of her house seeing that large burly man playing with her child in the backyard and she was terrified and just decided to do whatever he would do, whatever he wanted to get rid of him. There is another case, which has made the paper, which is currently in litigation, about someone who approached an elderly woman and managed to convince her to go into her car and drive to the ATM to extract cash in order to pay for the paving job. The paving jobs are typically of terrible quality, typically involve very little more than just piling up pavement and pushing it around.

The, so, paragraph one is simply to require that the contract be in writing. Paragraph two sort of, and I don't know if I can say I give these folks credit, but I give them something for saying, "Well, people receive value for what they received". And, what we want to be able to do is say, in essence, if you fall within the home solicitation contract, you physically alter someone's property, you are not entitled to claim a benefit to that if, within the cancellation period, the homeowner decides to cancel.

The purpose of the home solicitation contract provision is to discourage undue pressure being put on a homeowner, which is they may be physically intimidated, they may otherwise be intimidated, to give the opportunity to cancel that contract. And, you can't cancel a contract if the work is done within the three day period. So, the provision is fairly simple. It is simply a provision not to allow the person who is running the scam to somehow try to take advantage of the fact that they did the work within the three-day period.

And, I'd be happy to answer any questions.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Thank you. Are there any questions? Senator Bragdon?

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: Thank you. And, thank you for explaining what this does. I am just curious, do you think this will discourage people from doing this or is the intent more to give you power to go after those who do it to serve as an example to those who may consider it in the future?

Attorney Head: The latter.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: Thank you.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Any further questions? Senator Cilley?

Senator Jacalyn L. Cilley, D. 6: I thought folks might like to hear the, your response to the question I think I asked when you and I first sat down with this bill. And, that was, you know, what happens because the buyer has the three day window and what happens when they say, "I know I am not going to cancel, you know, I really want this done today". And, somebody lays pavement or provides service?

Attorney Head: I guess the issue is, is there is no prohibition in entering into a home solicitation contract. It's simply allowing that three-day waiting period. If you have a reputable paver who is going and is presenting to somebody at their house an opportunity to have a paving job done, a reputable paver is going to say, "Sure, I can wait three days". There is no need that it be done that afternoon. And, I've never seen a reputable paver drive up to someone's driveway and say, "I have extra pavement and I am happy to do your job for something less". And, if they do and it all works out great, there is not going to be a cancellation at the end of the day. Then, the statutory provision is not even triggered.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Senator DeVries?

Senator Betsi DeVries, D. 18: Thank you very much, Madam Chair. And, to continue on that thought, the individual that provides, within the first three days that service could be at risk of forfeiting if the homeowner decides that they would like to rescind compliance. So, it really is going to be doing work at risk if done...

Attorney Head: And, this only applies to that home solicitation situation.

Senator Betsi DeVries, D. 18: Correct.

Attorney Head: It is not when somebody is doing, you know, contracting pavement work and they received a call in their office. This is simply that situation where the contractor shows up at your house, you know, not previously scheduled, and says, "I can do your job in between jobs. I'll do it for you cheap today". It's if they are working out of a business location and the consumer contacts that person in a business location, the statute doesn't even apply. So, yes, it does shift the burden. It doesn't actually shift the burden, I think, it simply articulates what I think was the original intent of the statute. And, I think the original intent of the statute contemplated vacuum cleaners and things like that, where you can actually physically return it, and it's expanded. And, we have interpreted it in a way to try to use it in a way that does go after folks who are running scams. And, this just gives us a little bit more authority, and a little bit more control over that case.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Thank you. Senator Bragdon?

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: And, if I could follow up on that because so you are saying that you interpret this to mean if a homeowner calls a contractor and expresses interest in some service, and the contractor then comes to the person's home, then that is not a home solicitation sale?

Attorney Head: We would not interpret it to be that way.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: But, the statute says a home solicitation sale means a sale of goods and services in which a seller engages in a solicitation and sale at any place. So, solicitation...

Attorney Head: Exactly.

Senator Peter E. Bragdon, D. 11: Got it. Thank you.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Is the issue. Yup. Okay. Any further questions? Seeing none, thank you very much for your testimony.

Attorney Head: Thank you. And, I, again, apologize.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: And, I am sorry we interrupted your schedule today.

Attorney Head: No, my fault. Thank you.

Senator Margaret Wood Hassan, D. 23: Thank you for being here. Was there anybody else who wanted to speak on Senate Bill 368? Seeing no one else, I am going to close the hearing on Senate Bill 368.
