| Date: | April 14, 2022 |

| Recommendation: | INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE |

STATEMENT OF INTENT

This bill adds a new section to RSA 91-A to allow bodies (except the General Court) to hold meetings with only a fourth of the body present at a physical location. Members could participate remotely only when “attendance is not reasonably practical” with the reason noted in the meeting minutes. Each remote member would have to be on video and electronic public access would be noticed and provided. If such electronic access were interrupted by the host, the meeting would be adjourned. The majority thinks requiring both audio and video for participation is beyond the capacity of much of NH, effectively denying this opportunity to many bodies. The adjournment requirement in case of technical problems could be extremely difficult as many boards meet with deadlines where postponement is virtually impossible. The majority also thinks the General Court should operate under the laws we create for others.

Vote 11-10.

STATEMENT OF INTENT

This bill was passed by the Senate on a bi-partisan vote; establishing requirements for electronic participation in public meetings, specifically providing that the public have the opportunity to participate by video, telephone, and/or other electronic means. The minority's desire to address citizen's requests to provide an option for remote participation in public board meetings out-weighed the majority's reluctance to work to refine the Senate-proposed language. The Minority supported a motion of Interim Study so that this issue could be discussed, deliberated, and a bi-partisan proposal would be available for consideration by the house membership in 2023.

Sen. Daniels Sponsor Support

This bill gives an opportunity for the public to better participate in gov't meetings. It does not apply to the General Court. This bill includes many recommendations from the recent HB 108 study committee. The bill also requires any remote participant be visible. It is enabling legislation only.

Sen Perkin-Kwoka Sponsor Support

Remote participation has a lot of benefits. Towns can save money in administrative costs. The bill leaves RSA 91-A completely intact. There are parameters around how towns can conduct remote meetings.

Q McLean: This doesn't apply to the General court?

Ans. Correct.

Q Horrigan: Participation by speaker phone prohibited?

Ans: Yes

Karen Liot Hill City of Lebanon Support

I am a city councilor and remote meetings have allowed more people to participate. I believe this bill will allow this greater level of participation. We have engaged in intense deliberations. Having the ability to participate remotely would have benefited me and my constituents before. I think this bill is good for everyone. The video requirement could be a problem.

Q McLean: In your experience where would you draw the line about why one should be allowed to participate remotely?

Ans: Good question. The spirit of the bill is in person is preferable. I would expect people to interpret it in a proscriptive way; that "reasonable" should be narrowly applied. Ultimately, the voters will decide if that is being abused.

Margaret Burns NHMA Support

We continue to hear from members about the benefits of remote meetings. Many saw an incredible influx of people listening to and participating in public meetings. The bill is an extremely narrow, local option bill. The Legislative body must adopt it. Additional restrictions have already been mentioned. A variety of safeguards are part of the bill. It can be rescinded in similar manner. The bill changes nothing in RSA 91-A. Current authority re emergency meetings, etc. remain in place.

Q: Wuelper Legislative body?

Ans Town voters; City Council.

Q Sylvia: ¼ of body present. What about the ¾ not present?

Ans: We have engaged in intense deliberations the bill just gives the body flexibility.

Q McLean: What are your thoughts about towns as to amending approval by ballot in cities?

Ans: The requirement is similar in the bill based on the form of government,

Q Gordon: Would it be practical to ask for the approval to be done annually?

Ans: Not sure. Recission is the same as adoption.

Kate Horgan: NH Assoc of Counties Support

We cover the whole state, and this will make it a lot easier for us to meet. We have a lot of subcommittees and they will be able to meet much more regularly. With various weather conditions, it is important for people to be able to attend remotely.

Q Horrigan: What is the legislative body for a county delegation?

Ans: The delegation itself. Remember, it is optional.

Chairman Gordon and Members of the House Judiciary Committee,

The NH Association of Counties would like to register its support for SB 344, relative to quorum requirements under the right to know law of meetings open to the public.

This bill would allow members of a public body participating virtually to count towards the quorum for a public meeting. The NHAC has an executive board of 50 members and over 15 affiliates and subcommittees that meet and travel from across the state. Having a physical quorum was challenging even before the pandemic and has proven even more challenging since the remote option was removed. The ability to meet virtually allowed the Association to conduct our business efficiently and effectively.

At county government level, the efficiencies that a remote option created were impactful, especially for counties in the north and western part of the state; most importantly, the option reduced travel time and decreased mileage reimbursement.

The Association asks for your support for SB 344. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to our Executive Director, Kate Horgan at khorgan@dupontgroup.com.

Sincerely,

SERVING NEW HAMPSHIRE'S COMMUNITIES SINCE 1970

TO: Senate Judiciary Committee
FROM: Barbara Richter, NHACC Executive Director
DATE: January 25, 2022
SUBJECT: Written testimony regarding SB344

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony on SB344.

The New Hampshire Association of Conservation Commissions (NHACC) is the only non-profit, member organization in the state, dedicated to providing support, education, and advocacy for New Hampshire's 217 conservation commissions. For more than 50 years, NHACC has supported the work of these local conservation commissions so they can be effective protecting their municipalities natural resources. The NHACC Board supports SB344 that allows members of a public body to participate electronically in meetings.

The NHACC board agrees that the law should remove the requirement to have a quorum present in a physical location. We request that the reason members who choose to attend virtually should not be required to state the reason that attendance in person is not reasonably practical in the minutes or at the meeting.

Under the Governor's State of Emergency executive order, municipalities learned that remote attendance worked and we all saw that participation and public engagement increased and provided local government with the value and benefit of hearing public concerns and suggestions. Conservation commission members have adapted to using current technology to host meetings and discuss critical information while also including public input and involvement.

Most municipalities have already invested resources to make sure that meetings are conducted in a transparent way open to the public. The technology has been updated and procedures have been created that allow remote meetings to comply with right to know laws. Municipalities should be permitted to provide the flexibility and allow commission members to attend virtually.

We support the use of technology to allow remote participation of board and commission members, and encourage public engagement. NHACC supports conservation commission members who chose to participate in meetings virtually. Vote 'Ought to pass' on SB344 to allow for fully remote participation in public meetings.

Respectfully submitted,

Barbara Richter,

RE: SB 344 An act relative to the electronic participation requirements of meetings open to the public under the right to know law.

Dear Chair Gordon and Members of the Committee,

The Rivers Management Advisory Committee (RMAC) is writing to express its support of Senate Bill 344, which allows municipalities to authorize municipal public bodies to meet virtually when less than a quorum is physically present.

The RMAC supports this bill, both in its original text and as amended by the Senate, because

- Our experience was that remote meetings during the pandemic increased attendance and participation at public meetings;
- The state's local river management advisory committees and other state and municipal groups have reported similar experiences; and
- Current technology allows bodies to conduct meetings effectively and efficiently in a remote setting.

The original text of the bill would have applied to a variety of groups that are not covered by the Senate amendment, and which the RMAC would like to see included. Several of the local advisory committees for the nineteen designated rivers in the state have difficulty meeting quorum requirements or have lost members who are unable to drive an hour or more to meetings. LACs members are nominated by their towns and cities to provide local input in state permit decisions.

Many volunteers are older citizens. There are other volunteers who live far from meeting locations or are not able to drive at night or in bad weather. For them, having a remote attendance option that could apply to all public bodies in the state would allow greater participation in New Hampshire's culture of volunteer-based civic engagement. These volunteers should be counted towards a quorum so that these boards, committees, and commissions can conduct their statutory business.

The RMAC is a legislatively created body charged to work with the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services to administer RSA 483, the Rivers Management and Protection Program. The Governor and Council appointed Committee is composed of members from business, agriculture, hydroelectric, municipal government, water supply, conservation, recreation, fish and game, and historical interests.

Connecticut River Joint Commissions

Giving voice to New England's great river

New Hampshire - Connecticut River Valley Resource Commission
Vermont - Connecticut River Watershed Advisory Commission

Chairman Edward Gordon and Members of the House Judiciary Committee
107 North Main Street

RE: SB 344 Amendment. An act relative to public notice of and access to meetings under the right to know law.

Dear Chairman Gordon,

The Connecticut River Joint Commissions (CRJC) is writing to express its support of changes to quorum rules under NH RSA 91-a that are necessary for our organizational functioning. CRJC supports the adoption of either HB 1014, SB 322, or SB 344, which will allow public bodies to meet quorum requirements with higher remote participation. Unfortunately, the recent amendment to SB344, passed by the Senate, would not apply to groups like our local advisory committees, or what we call local river subcommittees (LRS).

The Connecticut River Joint Commissions is the only bi-state organization with a legislative mandate to provide guidance to both Vermont and New Hampshire to preserve the visual, ecological, and working landscape of the Connecticut River valley while also encouraging and maintaining economic viability throughout the region. By statute, Commission members represent Regional Planning Commissions and agricultural, hydroelectric, recreational, and environmental interests, all working together to bridge the political boundaries in the valley and provide leadership to preserve and protect the watershed's resources. The CRJC includes five LRSs including members from every community along the Connecticut River. Among its responsibilities, the CRJC is charged with reviewing legislation relevant to the river and with advising the NHDES Commissioner on the merits of such legislation. In addition, the LRSs are charged with the review of permits with potential impact on the Connecticut River, including but not limited to shoreland, alteration of terrain, wetlands, and herbicide treatment permits.

As a bi-state organization that stretches the full western border of New Hampshire, the CRJC's ability to function administratively and in our legislative duties at the state and local levels, is hampered by the current NH RSA 91-a statute. Specifically, the current quorum rules 1) require a significant number of volunteer members to drive an hour or more one-way to central meeting locations, 2) cause meeting cancellations due to un-safe road conditions, 3) limit our ability to provide timely or any comment on permits as requested by state agencies, and 4) deter new and diverse membership due to the additional cost and time associated with in-person attendance. The extent of this impact was made clear both in our increased ability to function under the previously declared emergency due to the COVID-19 pandemic, and our extremely hampered ability to function since the lifting of this order almost a year ago.

Connecticut River Joint Commissions

Giving voice to New England's great river

New Hampshire - Connecticut River Valley Resource Commission
Vermont - Connecticut River Watershed Advisory Commission

In conclusion, CRJC supports picking up HB 1014 and SB 322 that were tabled. Also, adopting SB 344 with the inclusion of local river advisory committees in the final language. The tools and protocols for hybrid and remote meetings are immediately available and familiar to the CRJC. We would like to offer CRJC members the remote option without jeopardizing a quorum, and thus the CRJC's ability to perform its administrative responsibilities and legislatively designated functions.

1 1 New Paragraph; Access to Governmental Records and Meetings; Electronic Participation.
2 Amend RSA 91-A:2 by inserting after paragraph III the following new paragraph:

3 IV. The legislative body of a political subdivision may vote to authorize members of public

8 for the benefit of the public body members and the public and be subject to the provisions of this
9 paragraph. Nothing in this paragraph shall apply to the general court.

10 (a) A member of the public body may participate in a meeting other than by attendance

13 meeting.

14 (b) Each part of a meeting required to be open to the public shall be audible or otherwise

17 of the meeting. Each member participating electronically or otherwise must be able to
