If we want to progress as a nation and get to a place beyond the systematic abuses of power against non-white Americans and Female-bodied Americans then it starts by educating our youth about the mistakes of the generations that came before. We owe these kids a chance to be better than us and keeping the teaching of Racism and Sexism out of the classroom is condemning these kids to grow up in the same unchanged fucked up world where women are treated as second class citizens and People of Color or treated like less than human. We owe these kids a chance to move past these things that have been effecting society for hundreds or years. History isn't always pleasant. We cannot hide unpleasantness from our children. They end up losing in the end bc they are A. unprepared for the real world and B. It robs them of the opportunity to be better than us.

My name is Abby C Rowe and I stand in full support of HB61, teaching real history in NH classrooms and making sure that Racism and Sexism are not excluded from that history. L
