AN ACT requiring trauma kits to be available in state-owned buildings.

METHODOLOGY:

This bill requires a trauma kit be installed and readily available in all state-owned buildings and creates a dedicated fund for purchasing said kits within the Department of Safety, Division of Fire Standards and Training and Emergency Medical Services.

Based on information provided by the Department of Administrative Services and Department of Safety, trauma kits under this bill may costs anywhere between $80 and $200 (depending on kit type needed at each location) and there are approximately 340 to 440 locations (including state leased buildings, such as liquor stores) for which a trauma kit would be required. Therefore, this bill would have an initial cost between $27,200 ($80 kit X 340 locations) and $88,000 ($200 kit X 440 locations). This initial cost is assumed to be incurred in FY 2024, however upkeep and replacement of units in FY 2025 and each year thereafter is indeterminable as those costs cannot be estimated at this time.

It should be noted this bill provides neither an appropriation nor a source of funds for the new dedicated fund for the purchase of any trauma kits.

Summary of testimony presented:

Sen. Prentiss

- Sen. Prentiss said that this bill will make key lifesaving equipment available to the public in all state owned and operated buildings should a person experience a life-threatening hemorrhage. She then said that 75% of hemorrhage deaths occurred in under 5 minutes and it is the number 1 cause of preventable death in the world.

- Sen. Prentiss added that this would allow for a bleeding control program in 221 buildings that are considered a high priority. She then said that there is no training required to access or use these kits much like the wall defibrillators most buildings now have.
- Sen. Prentiss then added that limited liability protects people like the Good Samaritan Law, so they are protected if someone is injured while being helped.
- Sen. Prentiss then said that the kits typically cost 23-83 dollars which means the service to cost ratio is high.
- Sen. Gendreau asked where the kits would be found
 - Sen. Prentiss answered that they will be put near where the defibrillator is.

Dr. Eric Martin

- Dr. Martin said that the idea of making everyone a first responder by providing these types of kits was introduced in the 2012 after the Sandy Hook shooting. He added that these kits will hopefully be rarely used but will be available to save lives when necessary. He then said that the classes for how to give basic trauma aid are often free at hospitals.
- Sen. Pearl asked if they could provide the instructions to the committee members.
 - Dr. Martin said that it would be possible if the committee wants them.
- Sen. Carson asked how it would be determined how many of these kits are needed.
 - Dr. Martin said that it depends on the size of the building and an risk assessment but he is not the right person to make that decision.

Dr. Mark Grossman

- Dr. Grossman said that these kits are easy to use and provide life saving capabilities. He added that the training lasts a lifetime unlike CPR training that requires constant recertification of best practices.
- Dr. Grossman then referenced the Parkland shooting and said that 17 of the people shot received tourniquets and all of them lived. He added that there is a 92% improved chance of living if a tourniquet is applied before shock sets in and an 80% improved chance after shock has set in but only a 12-13% chance if no tourniquet is applied.
- Sen. Pearl asked if the tourniquet makes it harder to save limbs.
 - Dr. Grossman answered that you have at least 2 hours before the tourniquet does permanent damage to limbs and added that nerve damage is better than death.
- Sen. Carson asked if there are first responders that have access to these in their normal course of duty.

- Dr. Grossman answered that it is dependent on individual department policy but most carry a first aid kit already because it is a basic standard of care.

Dr. David Hirsch

- Dr. Hirsch said that he is the only physician in the state that is also a certified police officer and has provided training and support to thousands of people regarding these techniques.
- Dr. Hirsch said that he was at the medical tent during the Boston marathon bombing and that untrained citizens trying to provide support with improper equipment was not as effective.
- Dr. Hirsch added that hemorrhage is the 4th leading cause of death in the USA and 3rd in NH. He then said that receiving care in 3-5 mins is crucial but many places especially in the North Country there are 20 plus minute response times for first responders.
- Sen Carson asked how much a kit costs.
 - Dr. Hirsch answered that it costs about 60 dollars to get a good kit.
- Sen. Gendreau asked if there is a chance someone could get into the kit and use the scissors as a weapon
 - Dr. Hirsch said that trauma sheers are created to not be sharp so you won't cut someone or stab them.
 - Sen Gendreau asked if the kits assist in situations where there's head trauma.
 - Dr. Hirsch answered that the hemostatic agent in the kits is used for any injuries not on the extremities like the head or torso.
