VETO MESSAGES

May 3, 2016

Governor's Veto Message Regarding Senate Bill 446

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on May 3, 2016, I have vetoed Senate Bill 446, relative to requirements of the state building code.

Ensuring that buildings are safe is critical to public safety and our economy, and we must always work to ensure that our families and businesses have the safe environment necessary for them to grow and thrive. By placing an arbitrary restriction on the rules that can be adopted by the State Building Code Review Board and limiting the ability of building inspectors to request relevant information prior to issuing permits, this bill could lead to less safe buildings and is a potential threat to public safety.

Senate Bill 446 unnecessarily ties the hands of local officials, limiting their ability to gather the information necessary to determine the scope of work, what code needs to be applied and the cost of the permit. As a result, it will be more difficult for building inspectors to properly vet projects and ensure that applicants meet the necessary requirements to keep the public safe. Furthermore, the proposed legislation would have set a vague and ambiguous standard, which could lead to an increase in litigation.

The New Hampshire Association of Fire Chiefs and the New Hampshire Planners Association oppose Senate Bill 446, and these changes were not recommended by the State Building Code Review Board, which is composed of a broad cross-section of people involved in planning and development, including home builders, engineers, electricians, plumbers, fire chiefs and municipal officials. No evidence was presented during hearings on this legislation that suggest there is currently an unnecessary burden on applicants, or that this bill would represent a solution as opposed to creating new problems.

This bill makes it more difficult for local officials to effectively do their jobs and ensure that buildings meet the uniform standard necessary to ensure public safety, and it is opposed by many of New Hampshire's foremost experts on building safety. Therefore, I have vetoed Senate Bill 446.

Respectfully submitted,

Margaret Wood Hassan
Governor

Legislative Ethics Committee

INTERPRETIVE RULING 2016-3

(May 6, 2016)

New Hampshire Constitution Part II, Article 7
Ethics Guidelines Section 1, Principles of Public Service
Ethics Guidelines Section 5, Conflict of Interest Procedure

Representative Shawn N. Jasper, Speaker of the House, has requested an Interpretive Ruling on the following questions:

"Is Part II, Article 7 of the New Hampshire Constitution or Ethics Guidelines, Section 1, Principles of Public Service, violated by a legislator who attempts to separate himself or herself from his or her office by identifying himself or herself as a representative of a public interest group while presenting testimony in advocacy of the group's position on a bill at a hearing before a legislative committee?"

Is the legislator required to disclose a conflict of interest in accordance with Ethics Guidelines Section 5?"

The Committee responds as follows:

Relevant Provisions of the NH Constitution and the Ethics Guidelines

[Art.] 7. [Members of Legislature Not to Take Fees or Act as Counsel.] No member of the general court shall take fees, be of counsel, or act as advocate, in any cause before either branch of the legislature; and upon due proof thereof, such member shall forfeit his seat in the legislature.

September 5, 1792

1 Principles of Public Service.

I. Public Office as a Public Trust

Legislators should treat their office as a public trust, only using the powers and resources of public office to advance public interests, and not to attain personal benefits or pursue any other private interest incompatible with the public good.

II. Principle of Independent Objective Judgment

Legislators should employ independent objective judgment in performing their duties, deciding all matters on the merits free from conflicts of interest and both real and apparent improper influences.

III. Principle of Accountability

Legislators should assure that government is conducted openly, equitably and honorably in a manner that permits the citizenry to make informed judgments and hold government officials accountable.

5 Conflict of Interest Procedure.

I. No declaration shall be required if no benefit or detriment could reasonably be expected to accrue to the legislator or the legislator's family member as a member of a business, profession, occupation, or other group, to any greater extent than to any other member of such business, profession, occupation, or other group, provided that disclosure of the legislator's or family member's membership is made in the Financial Disclosure Form pursuant to section 3 of the Ethics Guidelines. For purposes of these guidelines, groups shall be limited to ones generally recognized and of a substantial size.

II. When a legislator becomes aware that a conflict of interest exists or may exist and the conditions set forth in paragraph I are not met, the legislator shall proceed in accordance with either subparagraph (a) or (b):

(a) Declare that the legislator will not participate in any official activity associated with the issue.

(b) Declare that the legislator intends to participate in the official activity and will provide a description of the conflict of interest including:

(1) names of all entities, both public and private, which might be affected;

(2) the nature of any benefit which may accrue to the legislator or legislator's family member;

(3) the nature of any financial interest in the issue;

(4) the nature of any relationship which existed, exists or may exist between the legislator and

(5) any person or entity which might be affected;

(6) such additional information as may be required to permit clear public awareness and understanding of the nature and extent of the conflict.

III. The declaration required in subparagraphs II (a) and (b) of this procedure shall be publicly announced prior to the legislator's initial participation in the official activity. The information required in subparagraph (b) shall be filed with the clerk of the member's respective body within 24 hours of the time of the official activity and be made available for public inspection during normal business hours.

Committee Analysis

An examination of the historical context in which Part II, Article 7 of the New Hampshire Constitution was adopted in 1792, indicates the article was intended to prohibit members of the General Court who were attorneys from taking fees or acting as counsel or advocate in cases pending in the General Court. By way of background, it is useful to note that when the article was adopted, members of the legislature who were also attorneys frequently represented citizens in petitions submitted to the legislature seeking redress of various grievances. From New Hampshire's provincial period, through early statehood and into the nineteenth century, the state's legislature (or "General Court") spent a great deal of its time considering and acting upon petitions from its citizens. During this period, when there were no standing committees in the legislature or bureaucratic agencies in the executive branch to directly address the needs or grievances of individuals or groups of citizens, many pieces of legislation derived from petitions. It was a common practice for litigants in civil cases to petition the legislature seeking new trials, or appeals or reversals of decisions in the courts. Until the practice was ruled unconstitutional by the New Hampshire Supreme Court in the case of Merrill v. Sherburne in 1818, the state's laws were replete with examples of interference by the legislature in individual court cases. It was the practice of lawyer-members acting as counsel to the parties submitting petitions to the legislature, and the participation of the lawyer-members in the drafting of the bills resulting from the petitions and in the debates and votes on the bills before the legislature, that led to the adoption of the article.

Additionally, the language used in Part II, Article 7 supports the interpretation that the article was meant to apply to court cases brought before the general court. In late 18th Century America, the term "cause" was defined as "a subject of litigation," meaning the same as the term "case," and an advocate was defined as someone who "pleads the cause of another in a court of judicature."

Accordingly, the Committee determined the constitutional article would not prohibit a legislator from identifying as a representative of a public interest group and advocating the group's position on general legislation at a hearing before a legislative committee.

The second part of the Speaker's question relating to a legislator representing a public interest group is not so easily decided. While the Ethics Guidelines provide extensive regulation and reporting of activities that involve a financial benefit or detriment to a legislator or family member, there are circumstances that may raise ethical concerns even when there is no financial effect entailed.

Clearly, if the legislator were being paid to advocate for a public interest group, that would be lobbying and is prohibited under Section 4, Prohibited Activities of the Guidelines. However, legislators are often involved as volunteers in organizations whose mission they support and advocate for before legislative committees. In the absence of specific provisions in the Guidelines for such circumstances we turn to the general principles that provide the framework for ethical conduct.

Ethics Guidelines, Section 1, Principles of Public Service, declares that legislators should use the powers and resources of public office to advance public interests and not pursue any "private interest incompatible with the public good," and "employ independent objective judgment in performing their duties, deciding all matters on the merits free from conflicts of interest and both real and apparent improper influences."

The Committee determined that legislators may wear two hats: first as an elected official, and also as representative of an advocacy group, as the long as the private interest is not incompatible with the public good. Recognizing that there may be a difference of opinion about "public good" and "improper influences" the Committee relied on Ethics Guidelines, Section 1, Paragraph III, Principle of Accountability, which requires that government be "conducted openly, equitably and honorably" and "permits the citizenry to make informed judgments and hold government officials accountable." To achieve this transparency, the Committee advises that legislators representing an organization must file a declaration of intent under Section 5, Conflict of Interest Procedure of the Guidelines, indicating that they will participate in official action on a particular bill. While the form is designed for financial conflicts of interest, the Committee believes disclosure of a legislator's dual role as elected official and unpaid representative of an advocacy group will allow the public and his or her constituents to decide if such participation is compatible with the public good.
