Bradley praises support of workers' comp reform

CONCORD, NH – A critical bill aimed at reducing the cost of workers' compensation was signed into law this week.

Senate Majority Leader Jeb Bradley (R-Wolfeboro), prime sponsor of the bill, released the following statement on SB 133 becoming law.

"New Hampshire businesses are burdened by high energy costs, high business taxes and high workers' compensation costs which have continued to stifle job and economic growth in our state. This legislation, SB 133, is the first workers compensation reform measure that has passed in years, and takes a significant step towards reforming and reducing the high cost of workers' comp borne by our state's small business owners," said Senate Majority Leader Jeb Bradley (R-Wolfeboro).

"We need to keep working to address the high cost of doing business in New Hampshire by reducing business taxes, health care costs, and energy costs as part of a multi-faceted approach to restoring business competitiveness."
