Morse, Woodburn statements on the passing of Senator Scott McGilvray

Concord, NH - Senate President Chuck Morse (R-Salem) and Senate Minority Leader Jeff Woodburn (D-Whitefield) issued the following statements:

"It is with great sorrow that we learn of our fellow colleague Senator Scott McGilvray's passing this morning. Both my wife Susan and I would like to extend our deepest, heartfelt sympathies, warm thoughts and prayers to Senator McGilvray's wife Patti and his two daughters, Meaghan and Molly, as well as all of his family, friends and loved ones during this immensely difficult time," said Senate President Chuck Morse (R-Salem). "Senator McGilvray was well respected within in his community and has touched countless young lives through his dedication to education as well as coaching youth sports."

"Losing a member of the Senate is always difficult and the loss of Senator McGilvray so early in his career is especially sad. Each day in the Senate we all work hard to make our state better, and though his tenure serving Senate District 16 was far too brief, Senator McGilvray's service to his community will certainly have a positive and memorable impact for many years to come," said Morse.

"Scott's time in the NH Senate, just as his life, was too brief. He devoted his life to teaching, coaching, and advocating for our children and he left an indelible impression with all he worked with. I was proud to serve with Scott in the New Hampshire Senate and saw firsthand his dedication to the people of his district and the people of New Hampshire. I join with all my Senate colleagues in expressing our deepest sympathies to his family, particularly his wife Patti and his daughters on their loss. New Hampshire has lost a great public servant and I know that Scott's friends and family will be in all our thoughts and prayers during this difficult time," said Senator Jeff Woodburn (D-Whitefield).
