Bradley commends House for passage of cross border drug interdiction program

Concord, NH – Today, the New Hampshire House of Representatives voted to pass SB 131, which establishes a cross border drug interdiction program to curb the flow of drugs coming into New Hampshire. It now goes before the House Finance Committee for their consideration.

Senate Majority Leader, Jeb Bradley (R-Wolfeboro) issued the following statement:

"I am pleased the House voted to pass this bipartisan legislation which will be an important and effective way to fight the opioid epidemic in New Hampshire," said Senate Majority Leader Jeb Bradley (R-Wolfeboro), prime sponsor of the bill. "Operation Granite Hammer has very successfully removed drug dealers from our streets, cutting the supply of deadly drugs in our communities. This legislation will expand those efforts and also help prevent drugs from coming in to New Hampshire in the first place with more targeted interdiction at the Massachusetts border.

"The epidemic is ruining the lives of too many Granite Staters and I look forward to working with the House to continue to move this bill forward," Bradley added.
